FUNDING SOLUTIONS

With so many different finance options available to UK businesses, it can be tricky trying to narrow down which financing route is likely to best suit your needs. As soon as your Capitalise profile has been completed, they'll let you know straight away which options you're likely to qualify for.

Take a look below for a brief overview of some of the most popular financing solutions taken up by UK businesses with a more detailed breakdown of each option available later in this guide.

ASSET FINANCE

Preserve your working capital whilst getting access to the tools, equipment and machinery your business needs with asset finance. Avoid hefty upfront costs by either spreading the payments out over a convenient number of months or years, or simply lease the required assets for as long as you need them.

INVOICE FINANCE

Avoid the restrictive inconvenience of waiting for raised invoices to be paid by advancing a percentage of them immediately with invoice finance. Rather than borrowing against your business, you'll be able to source funds from work that's already been completed as well as having the option to outsource your sales ledger management processes.

MERCHANT CASH ADVANCE

If your business takes regular payments through a card reader or EPOS terminal then you may well be eligible for a merchant cash advance. A lump sum is sent directly to your business bank account with a small percentage of the total amount borrowed repaid each time you take a credit or debit card payment.

TRADE FINANCE

Obtaining enough capital to support the purchase and production of new stock can often be the major stumbling block that holds SMEs back from quicker expansion. Trade finance can help to fund the supply chain from start to finish by purchasing stock from suppliers on your behalf with loans secured against new purchase orders.

WORKING CAPITAL FINANCE

Need additional capital to support the day to day running costs of your business? Working capital finance is a multi-purpose business loan which can help you to keep on top of everything from staff wages and stock purchase to utility bills and premises rental.

PROPERTY FINANCE

Whether a property developer, investor, or simply wish to purchase a business premises, these types of purchases are typically leveraged. Through Capitalise, you'll have access to rapid bridging loans, development and commercial finance to help ensure that profitable opportunities don't fall by the wayside.

ASSET FINANCE

Purchasing new assets for your business is an essential part of growth, however SMEs are often held back from quicker expansion by their cash flow.

Outlaying large, upfront payments for new equipment, tools and machinery can detrimentally affect the day to day running of your business, but failing to invest can see your customer base begin to suffer.

HIRE PURCHASE

Prefer to own the asset at the end of your agreement? A hire purchase works in a similar way to a finance lease however your monthly payments will be working towards full ownership of the asset at the end of the term rather than simply leasing it for its economic life.

OPERATING LEASE

An operating lease is great for businesses who rely on plant, machinery and tools to carry out their services or produce a product. Payments are made until the expiry date of the agreement is reached, at which point you'll pay the difference between the original purchase price and residual value upon expiration.

Asset finance has been created to help businesses overcome this common pitfall. Lenders are able to either purchase the asset on your behalf and allow you to spread the cost in affordable monthly repayments, or simply lease the equipment to you for as long as it's needed.

Capitalise has partnered with lenders who specialise in providing asset finance to a vast array of industries, ensuring that you can access the assets you need as well as dealing with sector-specific professionals who understand your needs.

Read on to learn more about the different types of asset finance available to UK businesses.

FINANCE LEASE

A finance lease works in a similar way to renting any equipment you might need. You'll typically lease the asset for its economic life meaning that you'll never be left with outdated equipment. This gives you the flexibility of full, unrestricted access to the tools you need without the burden of ownership.

CONTRACT HIRE

Contract hire is most commonly used for accessing new vehicles for your business. Payments are calculated based on the purchase value and estimated residual value of the vehicle at the end of the agreement. It's usually sold once the contract expires which helps to drive down the monthly repayments for the duration.

REFINANCING

It's never been easier to raise capital through your existing assets by refinancing a loan against your current equipment. This can help you to quickly and easily secure additional finance from your assets if you'd rather invest funds elsewhere in your business.

INVOICE FINANCE

Having to wait weeks or even months for raised invoices to be settled by your customers can significantly inhibit your ability to grow as a business as well as making it difficult to stay on top of your daily business expenses.

Additionally, you may find yourself spending significant amounts of time chasing up these invoices when these staff resources could be better served elsewhere in your organisation.

Invoice Discounting

Invoice discounting has become one of the most popular methods used by SMEs when it comes to dealing with this issue. Rather than having to wait up to 120 days for an invoice to be settled, you'll be able to advance a chosen percentage of each due payment with the remainder paid to you, minus fees, once the customer settles the outstanding balance.

You'll retain complete control of your sales ledger throughout this process and will still be responsible for chasing up these payments, giving you complete confidentiality when it comes to engaging with this funding service.

Invoice Factoring

Managing your sales ledger as well as overseeing credit control can be both daunting and costly for SMEs. Invoice factoring takes things one step further from invoice discounting by taking on this task on your company's behalf, ensuring that you'll never need to chase up a raised invoice again.

Not only will you never need to chase an advanced invoice again, but you'll also benefit from ongoing credit checking to ensure that your customers continue to meet the terms of your arranged credit facilities.

As well as retaining complete responsibility of credit control and your sales ledger, your customers will deal directly with teams who bring extensive accounts experience to the equation, ensuring that they're always dealt with in a friendly, professional and efficient manner.

HOW INVOICE FINANCE WORKS

Send original invoices to your customer(s) and copies to the lender

Receive up to 95% of the invoice amount - usually within 24 hours

Once the lender is paid by your customer(s), receive balance minus agreed upon fees

MERCHANT CASH ADVANCE

Fluctuating turnover can be a real headache for businesses looking to source and repay finance. Whilst a particular repayment may be affordable during busy periods, it can be challenging trying to keep up these payments when turnover dips.

If your business takes regular credit and debit card payments from customers then you may well be eligible for a merchant cash advance, offering the security of lump sum lending with the flexibility of revenue focused repayments.

Rather than sticking to a fixed monthly repayment schedule, you'll simply repay part of your loan each time a customer makes a payment through your card terminal. In practice, this means that when you're taking a large volume of payments you'll repay more, but during seasonal drops in income you'll repay less.

Capitalise will always seek to match your business with lenders who have a proven track record dealing with other companies within your sector. Whether you operate in retail, manufacturing, distribution, leisure, or any other facet of UK industry, they'll ensure that you receive a competitive rate that's both affordable and tailored to your business.

HOW MERCHANT CASH ADVANCE WORKS

The advance is unsecured which means your house is not at risk

No fixed payments as you pay back through credit card sales

No interest charges so you'll know upfront how much the advance will cost

Merchant cash advance partners will typically offer finance on a revolving basis meaning that you'll be able to continue using your existing credit facility each time 60-70% of the balance has been repaid. What's more is that these loan types can be issued very quickly, giving you access to the funds you need when you need them most.

TRADE FINANCE

One of the biggest stumbling blocks faced by SMEs and importers looking to grow their customer contracts is the ability to fund large orders from suppliers.

Although credit facilities can be obtained from suppliers, you'll often receive less favourable terms as well as having to stick rigidly to the credit limit you've been given.

With trade finance, your lender will be able to fund up to 100% of the stock your business needs, paying your supplier directly and securing the finance against purchase orders and finished goods.

This quick and convenient lending stream will not only give you access to 'cash buyer' rates, but will ensure that you can deliver your orders on time and to the high standards that your customers expect.

Capitalise.com work with specialist trade finance lenders who have extensive experience providing funding at every step of the supply chain. Their invaluable experience working with national and international suppliers means that you'll be able to take advantage of their expertise when it comes to dealing with documentation, insurance, invoice collections and even delivery. If your supplier is based abroad and you're looking to import goods, most companies are equipped to provide finance in many of the world's most popular currencies.

You'll only repay your trade finance loan once you've satisfied the purchase order from your client, giving you plenty of breathing space when it comes to settling your balance.

WORKING CAPITAL FINANCE

It's all well and good financing assets, suppliers, property and other purchases, but sometimes SMEs simply need a helping hand taking care of the day to day running costs of their business. An unexpected tax bill, the need to expand your workforce or even a hike in premises rental costs can suddenly put your working capital at risk.

Working capital finance is a multi-purpose, flexible, short term loan which can be used to drive growth almost anywhere within your organisation.

Unlike traditional business loans, working capital finance can be issued within a matter of days from approval and can be used to cover everything from staff wages and utility bills to office supplies and tax bills. Many providers don't require you to disclose what the loan will be used for, leaving you free to invest your capital into multiple areas of your business.

FEATURES OF A WORKING CAPITAL LOAN

No requirement to specify the loan's purpose

Loan is paid out in days of approval

Customised to your business model

PROPERTY FINANCE

For businesses operating in the construction, property investment and development industries, or even those wishing to simply purchase their own premises, sourcing finance can be challenging at the best of times.

Changes in financial regulations have seen traditional lending streams tightening up their lending criteria leading to missed opportunities within the market due to a lack of funding. Read on to learn more about the different types of property finance.

DEVELOPMENT FINANCE

Whether you're looking to take on a major new build project or simply wish to refurbish or redevelop an existing structure, development finance can help to fund your next investment with both upfront capital and ongoing instalments

Funding is usually issued for up to twenty four months with the amount borrowed repaid once the project has been completed and the property or properties sold on. A standard commercial mortgage may be taken out at the end of construction allowing you to clear your development finance balance and proceed with a more affordable, long term solution.

COMMERCIAL MORTGAGE

Commercial mortgages can be used for purchasing a business property, for long term commercial property investment or to raise capital by refinancing a premises that you already own.

They are taken out over a predetermined number of years with any charges, interest rates and fees transparently outlined upfront, so you'll be able to budget effectively.

Most come with a variable interest rate, however fixed interest rates are available from certain specialist providers.

Commercial mortgages are available across almost every business sector, however you'll need to have enough funds to put down a deposit and they'll want to see evidence that you can make your monthly repayments on time.

BRIDGING LOANS

Bridging loans are an essential part of life as a property investor or for SMEs trying to take advantage of a new premises purchase. They're ideal for those situations when you need fast access to property finance such as purchasing a property at auction, plugging the gap until a renovation is completed or whilst you're waiting for a more traditional mortgage to be approved.

Similarly, if an opportunity arises to take on a new property but you're still waiting to sell, they can help to inject additional capital into your business so you won't have to miss out.
